

The St George's Police Trust is a registered charity supported by voluntary donations from service police officers in a number of police forces in England, Wales and Scotland. The charity provides financial assistance to needy young people, one of whose parents is or was a serving police officer who contributed to the charity and is now deceased or wholly incapacitated. The charity was first established in the 1950s with the proceeds from the sale of the Police Orphanage in Harrogate (St George's House). Serving police officers make a voluntary donation of 19 pence per week to support the work of the Trust.
